CHAIRMAN CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER'S DESK

At the beginning of the year under review, I issued a New Year's appeal to drug barons, warning them to quit the criminal trade in narcotics and avoid the calamity that will befall them. Interestingly, those who refused to heed the warning by accepting the olive branch are currently regretting their recalcitrant decision behind bars.

It was a very successful year for the agency and the country because we built on the solid foundation of the previous year in terms of drug supply control and drug demand reduction activities. As part of efforts to address the very high drug use prevalence in the country, we amplified the War Against Drug Abuse (WADA), which was launched by President Muhammadu Buhari, GCFR.

This new wave of anti-drug abuse sensitisation was taken across the length and breadth of the country. The agency strengthened partnerships and created new relationships in line with the principle of collective responsibility. We took the enlightenment train to nations, international organisations, royal fathers, religious leaders, captains of industry, schools, communities, and families.

We recorded a giant leap in drug demand reduction with the establishment and commissioning of the NDLEA toll-free call centre which has broadened access to treatment and rehabilitation. The agency also had unprecedented support notably from the Governors' Wives Forum, which made commitments to broaden and deepen social efforts to ameliorate the consequences of drug abuse at the state level.

In line with our strong faith in building stronger institution, the agency participated in numerous local and international training and manpower development programs. We also enjoyed the tremendous support of international partners, chiefly the UNODC, counterparts, and governments of the United States, France, Germany, the United Kingdom, India, and South Korea, to mention only a few. The support came in the form of donations of equipment, training, intelligence, and other logistics.

Already, we have 34 barons in our dragnet that are facing the music in court. We have secured orders for the temporary forfeiture of their assets. Interestingly, the efforts of our dedicated and competent legal team will ensure that all the cases are diligently prosecuted, ensuring that no trafficker goes unpunished and the final forfeiture of ill-gotten wealth.

Prominent among the operational successes are the dismantling of two clandestine methamphetamine laboratories, the discovery and seizure of over two tonnes of cocaine in Ikorodu, Lagos. Others are the discovery of tramadol hauls in Lagos and across the country, as well as the destruction of cannabis plantations.

Similarly, in pursuit of staff welfare, we conducted promotions and made significant progress with the barracks construction project for officers. In the new year, we shall continue to raise the bar on achievements, build on professionalism, maintain best practices, intensify training, and expand the scope of our intelligence-led operations.

May I thus express my heartfelt gratitude for the invaluable contributions of stakeholders who made sacrifices to advance the country's anti-narcotics campaign. We look forward to another fantastic year of impressive onslaughts against drug trafficking cartels.

1. BRIEF HISTORY OF THE NATIONAL DRUG LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCY

1.0 BACKGROUND

The Government of Nigeria (GON) was deeply concerned about the magnitude and rising trend of narcotic drugs and psychotropic substances demand and trafficking. This was due to the consequences of drugs on the user, the family, and society at large. In addition, the link between narcotic drugs and other related organised criminal activities like terrorism, banditry, kidnapping, and murder, among others, was a critical area of concern to the government.

Unfortunately, the arrest of some Nigerians for drug trafficking outside the country was considered an embarrassment to the country. These and other factors eventually led to the establishment of the National Drug Law Enforcement Agency (NDLEA). This bold step was to ensure the effective eradication of illicit drug production, trafficking, and abuse in the country. Nigeria has also played an active role in global drug control programmes as a signatory to all the United Nations International Conventions on Drugs and Psychotropic substances.

Prior to the establishment of the NDLEA through decree No. 48 of 1989, which is now known as the NDLEA Act CAP N30, Laws of the Federation of Nigeria, there existed drug control laws in the country. They include the Dangerous Drug Act of 1935 and the Hemp Act of 1966, among others. The function of drug control was initially performed by various security agencies like the Nigeria Customs Service, Nigeria Immigration Service, and Nigeria Police.

The NDLEA Act empowered the Agency to coordinate all drug laws and policies previously conferred on any other statutory body in the country. This included campaigns to check the abuse of narcotics and psychotropic substances. Accordingly, the NDLEA became the sole prosecuting body for drug cases in Nigeria. Other organisations are to provide the agency with relevant intelligent report. However, if they arrest a suspected drug offender, the suspects and drug exhibits must be immediately transferred to the nearest NDLEA command for investigation and prosecution.

2,139 kilograms (2.1 tonnes) of Cocaine discovered at a warehouse, Ikorodu, Lagos.

2.0 DRUG SUPPLY SUPPRESSION

The year 2022 witnessed some outstanding results in drug supply reduction. One of such was the dismantling of two major clandestine laboratories in Lagos and Anambra States, where crystal methamphetamine, popularly known as Mkpuru Mmiri in local parlance, was being produced.

After several months of painstaking surveillance, the cartel behind the methamphetamine scourge was brought down with the arrest of two kingpins and a cook. The first laboratory, located in the Victoria Garden City (VGC) Estate of Lekki, Lagos, is owned by a suspected baron, Chris Emeka Nzewi, while the second, in the Nise community of Awka South local government area of Anambra State, is allegedly owned by Paul Ozoemenam. The owners of these two illicit meth laboratories were successfully arrested alongside one Sunday Ukah from Aba, Abia State, who was the cook or chemist that produced the drugs for them.

Similarly, the agency recorded a cocaine haul with the discovery of a major warehouse in a secluded estate in the Ikorodu area of Lagos State, where 2.1 tons (2,139.5 kilograms) of cocaine worth more than $278,250,000 or about N194,775,000,000 in street value were seized. Four suspected drug kingpins, including a Jamaican and the warehouse manager, were arrested in the well-coordinated and intelligence-led operation.

The kingpins of the cocaine cartel include Messrs Soji Jibril, 69, an indigene of Ibadan, Oyo State; Emmanuel Chukwu, who hails from Ekwulobia, Anambra State; Wasii Akinade, from Ibadan, Oyo State; Sunday Oguntelure, from Okitipupa, Ondo State; and Kelvin Smith, a native of Kingston, Jamaica. They are members of an international drug syndicate that the agency has been trailing since 2018.

In a related development, the agency also discovered an expansive mansion in Lagos where about 13 million tramadol pills with a street value of N8.8 billion were confiscated. The billionaire owner of the mansion where the drugs were recovered, Ugochukwu Nsofor Chukwukadibia, is currently on trial. A search of the expansive mansion led to the discovery of 443 cartons of tramadol hydrochloride 225 mg, which contained 13,451,466 pills of the pharmaceutical opioids.

A drug warehouse owned and operated by a suspected baroness in Warri, Delta State, Bridget Oghenekevwe Emeka, also known as Mama, was arrested by NDLEA agents. The drug warehouse, located within a palatial mansion owned by the 59-year-old drug baroness, is used to distribute drugs like crack cocaine, methamphetamine, and other illicit substances. 2.1 VISA CLEARANCE 2022

The visa clearance policy was introduced to conduct in-depth vetting of applicants who desire to travel to some drug source countries. The countries include Thailand, Malaysia, Indonesia, India, Brazil, Pakistan, the Philippines, and Russia. This is based on the cordial relationship between Nigeria and these countries. In the year under review, a total of 2,383 applications were received out of which 2,321 were cleared, none was rejected, and 62 pending. The pending cases are those with incomplete records and documentation, but they will be treated as soon as the administrative conditions are met.

3.1 DRUG TRAFFICKING AND ABUSE TRENDS

The drug production, trafficking, and abuse patterns have remained relatively stable in the year under review. Cannabis cultivation is still high in Ondo, Osun, Ekiti, Oyo, Ogun, Edo, and Delta. The dried weeds are usually stored in illegal warehouses. Different means of concealment are then used in smuggling the drug to other states for local consumption, while some are packaged for export.

Illicit production of methamphetamine was found in Lagos State, South West, and Anambra State, South East, where it was discovered previously. This was the result of painstaking and protracted undercover operations. The seizures of methamphetamine attest to the activities of the cartel. However, in order to nip the illicit production of crystal methamphetamine in the bud, the agency successfully traced and dismantled two laboratories. One of them was operating in Victoria Garden City, Lagos, while the other was in Anambra. Both laboratories were producing the drug for local consumption and export.

Traditional trafficking routes have also remained relatively stable. Cocaine is imported from South American countries, particularly Brazil, Bolivia, Peru, and Chile. It is also imported into Nigeria through land borders from Addis Ababa, Doha, and Cote d'Ivoire (the West Coast). Cocaine is exported from Nigeria to the United Kingdom, other European nations, the UAE, and South Africa, among others.

Heroin is imported from Afghanistan, Pakistan, Myanmar, and Mexico. It is also exported to the US, the United Kingdom, and South Africa. Methamphetamine is produced in Nigeria and exported to Malaysia, Japan, South Africa, the United Kingdom, Norway, and the United Arab Emirates.

Cannabis is exported from Nigeria to Benin, Niger, Ghana, Cameroon, Togo, the United Arab Emirates, the United Kingdom, and South Africa. However, cannabis brands like Loud & Colorado are imported from the USA and Canada, while Skunk is imported mainly from Ghana. Pharmaceutical opioids like Tramadol and codeine cough syrup are imported from Pakistan and India. It is also exported to Europe.

Khat is imported from East Africa, Mozambique, Kenya, and Israel, while it is exported from Nigeria to Europe and America. The agency will continue to monitor the illicit drug production, trafficking, and abuse trends in the country as it offers lasting solutions to the global problem.

6.0 DRUG DEMAND REDUCTION

Drug demand reduction involves initiating and implementing policies and programs to reduce illicit demand for drugs. This is the vital component that complements drug supply control, thereby ensuring a balanced approach to narcotic drug management. Routine sensitisation programs targeting different groups, such as youth in school, youth out of school, workplace, armed forces/paramilitary, religious/worship places, community members, and internally displaced persons, were carried out.

Interestingly, this was done in collaboration with non-governmental organisations/civil society groups, and government agencies. The agency engaged in sensitisation training, workshops, conferences, and meetings with stakeholders. During the period under review, eight hundred and fourteen programs were carried out in secondary and higher institutions. The Katsina state first lady, Hajia Hadiza Bello Masari, in partnership with the NDLEA Katsina state command, organised a Spelling Bee competition for secondary school students in the state.

Similarly, during the commemoration of the 2022 International Day against Drug Abuse and Illicit Trafficking, the NDLEA, in collaboration with the MTN Foundation, organised a quiz competition for ten secondary schools across the six geopolitical zones. Equally, the Akwa Ibom State Command organised quiz and Spelling Bee competitions for ten schools

Chairman/Chief Executive Officer of NDLEA, Brig.Gen. MB Marwa (Retd.) OFR at the Initiative Against Addiction and Substance Abuse in Nigeria (IAASAN) 2022 annual conference where he delivered a special address and was presented excellence in leadership award by IAASAN Board Chairman and Etsu Nupe, Alhaji Yahaya Abubakar at the Nigerian Army Resource Centre, Asokoro, Abuja August 18, 2022.

6.1 DATA COLLECTION AND RESEARCH

The agency collects treatment demand data from its counselling and rehabilitation centres across the country, which forms part of the report of the Nigeria Epidemiological Network on Drug Use (NENDU) and the West Africa Epidemiological Network on Drug Use (WENDU). Importantly, this report forms the basis for the initiation of culturally relevant policies and programs by the agency. The aggregate data on treatment demand shows that data was collected from 2,352 clients, out of which 821 were residential and 1,531 were offered brief intervention.

7.0 NATIONAL DRUG CONTROL MASTER PLAN (NDCMP) SECRETARIAT

In accordance with the coordination and monitoring functions, the NDCMP Secretariat facilitated the development of the NDCMP Operational Plan. Progress was also monitored in the implementation of the plan in 2022.

Also within the period under review, a total of one hundred and seventy-three (173) activities were mapped out across the four (4) strategic pillars of the NDCMP for implementation.

ACTIVITIES PLANNED FOR YEAR 2022

HIGHLIGHTS OF ACTIVITIES IMPLEMENTED

1. The NDCMP secretariat facilitated the conduct of sensitisation programs on the NDCMP for NDLEA officers across 12 NDLEA formations. The sensitisation was also extended to stakeholders, including members of the State Drug Control Committees (SDCC).
2. To boost effective communication on the NDCMP, Information Education Communication (IEC) materials on the NDCMP 2021-2025 were produced and distributed.
3. The NDCMP monitoring framework was developed in 2022 by the NDCMP secretariat in collaboration with members of the NDCMP Technical Working Group (TWG). To utilise this NDCMP framework effectively, a capacity-building program on "how to utilise the monitoring framework" was carried out for NDLEA officers across NDLEA directorates, both at the National Headquarters in Abuja and the Lagos liaison office. By the end of the last quarter of the year 2022, a total of sixty-six (66) officers had developed their skills on how to utilise the NDCMP reporting template.
4. To assess the status of progress made in the implementation of the NDCMP in 2022, the NDCMP Technical Working Group (TWG) meeting was held within the 3rd quarter of the year. The members of the NDCMP TWG include the National Drug Law Enforcement Agency (NDLEA), the National Agency for Food and Drug Administration and Control (NAFDAC), the Federal Ministry of Health (FMOH), the Federal Ministry of Education (FMOE), and the National Agency for the Control of AIDS (NACA). The representatives of UNODC were also present at the meeting.
5. As part of its ad hoc duties, the NDCMP secretariat collected and collated information from stakeholders. It also facilitated the completion of the UNODC Annual Report Questionnaire (ARQ).

9.0 TRAINING AND MANPOWER DEVELOPMENT

The agency within the year under review successfully facilitated several capacity-building programs geared towards improving the efficiency and overall productivity of officers and men. The impact of these programs can be seen in the record number of arrests, drug seizures, prosecutions, and drug demand reduction activities.

There was increased support from local and international collaborators. Some of the funded training was advanced by France, the United States of America, Germany, the United Kingdom, Singapore, the Netherlands, and Thailand. Others are Senegal, Ghana, Egypt, the European Union, the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC), the International Organization for Migration (IOM), and the Konrad Adenauer Foundation (Stiftung).

Officers participated in the Senior Executive Strategic Course at the prestigious National Defence College. The agency also took part in training offered by the Office of the National Security Adviser (ONSA) aimed at promoting peace in the country and synergy among law enforcement agents.

Some of the training programs organised by the agency in collaboration with some local training consulting firms are as follows:

1. Harmonized Capacity Building Training for Airport Operators.
2. Leadership and strategic management course for zonal, state, and special area commanders
3. Refresher Course (ASN II to DSN)
4. Decision-making course for management staff at the national headquarters.
5. A course on SOP, raids, investigations, surveillance, and intelligence designed for Deputy State Commanders of Operations and Investigation.
6. Leadership in the 21st century, anti-corruption, and ethical values
7. Virtual training sessions were held for officers across the commands.

Projection/Conclusion

11.0 CONCLUSION/PROJECTION

After laying a solid foundation in 2021 for the reinvigorated war against drug abuse in the country, the year 2022 witnessed a smooth implementation of the new plan of action to rid the country of illicit drug production, trafficking, and abuse. Still basking in the euphoria of the administrative restructuring that addressed the promotion needs of officers, the renewed offensive against drug barons was sustained with greater vitality and aggression.

The year under review is quite remarkable for pushing the limits on all fronts. In what could best be described as a positive chain result, Nigerians were constantly inundated with the outstanding performances of the agency. There was the successful dismantling of drug trafficking cartels with the simultaneous discovery of two clandestine laboratories for the production of methamphetamine. The busting of tramadol warehouses also became commonplace, as did the dismantling of various cross-border drug trafficking syndicates.

Similarly, the agency dealt a crushing blow on the state's enemies with the large cocaine haul recorded in Ikorodu, Lagos, where over 2.1 metric tonnes of cocaine was detected, seized, and members of the trafficking cartel apprehended. Indeed, the number of drug barons in detention increased from twelve to thirty-four. This is a clear indication that Nigeria's drug control efforts have gone beyond the drug mules to the kingpins.

In order to ensure a balanced approach to addressing the drug problem, the country commenced the implementation of the National Drug Control Master Plan (NDCMP 2021-2025) with massive stakeholder collaboration in drug supply control and drug demand reduction activities. Anti-drug abuse sensitization received a significant boost as well, with various programs for youths in and out of schools, workplaces, worship centers, the community, and the media.

The stage is therefore clear for seamless progress in the coming year as the country concentrates efforts on staff welfare, training, manpower development, drug abuse prevention education, and improved synergy among stakeholders. No doubt, more drug barons will continue to go down and be incarcerated if they refuse to quit the criminal trade.
